BURGLARS USE PASS KEY AND LOOT HOME OF MRS. J. H. MUIR

Pass key burglars reappearel in Richmond yesterday.

The residence of Mrs. J. H. Muir at Twenty-sixth and Humphrey was entered between 1:30 and 5:45 yesterday afternoon and looted of a ladies' gold watch, a diamond ring and a typewriter, valued at about $175, and various towels and pieces of table linen. The total value of the articles stolen reached around $250, according to reports made to the police department by occupants of the house upon their return at 5:45.

There are now clues to the burglary.

Richmond has been singularly free from burglaries of the pass-key variety for several months.

FIREMEN'S BALL GREAT SUCESS

The pavilion at East Sshore park held a record crowd last night, the occasion being the annual ball for the firemen's relief fund .

The big ball was bright, gay and fragrant with flowers of springtide, and there was an air of good comradeship that pervaded and permeated the place. The elaborate scheme of decorations had been conceived and executed under the chairmanship of Ira S. Conrad. At a signal, a great bell built of marigolds and carnations was lowered and each lady given a carnation as a delicate souvenir.

The grand march was led by Mayor and Mrs. E. J. Garrard.

All committees had anticipated the wants and requirements of the guests, and there was a notable absence of friction.

Chick Barry's eight-piece orchestra furnished the music.

The ball was a financial and social success.

Man Here on Hike From S. F. To Gotham

Harry Thorne, of Ukiah, who says he is "half Swedish and half Norwegian and proud of it," was in Richmond last night on the first lap of a San Francisco to New York and return hike which is scheduled to be finished in 175 days.

Thoran is a veteran of the Spanish American War and talks about his little journey to Manhattan from Market street as blandly as a Richmondite would view a walk to Stege Junction.

Thorne is 39 years old.

In answer to a question from the Record-Herald, he said, "No, I never married. I would not be walking if I had."

What did he mean?

Thorne said he is walking across the continent for two reasons: to break a record held by Percy Weston, and "for the Almighty Dollar."

He recently received some eulogistic mention in the columns of the San Francisco "Bulletin."

Thorne stopped in Richmond for a little while and while here was examined by Dr. J. S. Mason, ex-Army doctor, who says the hiker is physically fit.

Roof Fire Does Small Damage at San Pablo

Fire, supoed to have started from sparks from a chimney, yesterday noon destroyed a small section of roof in the home of Francisco Mondoza, section man for the Southern Pacific Company at San Pablo.

The alarm was answered by fire company No. 3, as well as the company switch engine in charge of Foreman Newl.

NO CHANGE IN WATER RATE HERE

There will be no change in the water rates charged by the East Bay Water Company.

The State Railroad Commission yesterday handed down their decision to this effect in denying the application of the water company for a raise in rates. The application of the East Bay cities for a reduction of rates was dismissed simultaneously.

The present rate is based on a valuation of $18,916.28 for the water company's operative holdings. It is stated that this valuation should produce a yield of 7.33 per cent, which the commission say is an adequate return.

The water company asserted that the correct valuation of their holdings should be $23,000,000 to $30,000,000.

The figures forming the basis of the rates do not include the non-operative property. The Railroad Commission fix this at $2,600,000, which figures were excluded from consideration in fixing the rate to consumers. The water company asserted that their non-operative lands valued at $1,900,000, the cities asserting them to be worth $4,000,000.

City Attorney D. J. Hall has handled the interests of Richmond in opposing a raise in rates. All cities of the East Bay had opposed any revision upward.

Hosts Acclaim Lincoln School

Hundreds of rooters and spectators yesterday saw the Lincoln school win the first leg on the Rotary Club Cup yesterday by taking first place in the annual Junior Field Meet, held on the High school oval. The Lincoln school will have possession of the cup until April, 1923, when the cup will again be put up for competition. The school first to win three meets will have permanent possession of the beautiful trophy.

The Grant school took first place in the boys' events, but the girls of Lincoln school won the meet for their school by outclassing the girls of the other schools.

Miss McLaurin, director of physical education for girls at the High school, was the starter for the girls' events, while W. H. Boyd performed in a similar capacity for the boys' events. Miss Cameron, penmanship supervisor, kept score for the boys, and Miss Lucas of the Washington school, kept tally for the girls. Miss Adams, physical education supervisor, and V. D. Brammer, of the Y. M. C. A., were in charge of the meet.

The score:

	Boys	Girls	Total
Lincoln	46½	59½	108
Grant	49½	35½	85
Peres	32½	38½	71
Stege	16	15	31
Fairmont	16½	5	21½
Nystrom	8	3	11
Washington	1	10	11
Pullman	1	0	1

John Toffoli Accordionist At Orpheum

John Toffoli, well known high school student of Richmond, and son of Mr. and Mrs. John Toffoli, of 233 Fourteenth street, is making his mark in the world of music.

Friday he appeared at the Orpheum theatre in San Francisco, under the direction of the orchestra leader, Professor A. L. Daniels, and played an accordion solo.

Toffoli has played before the American Legion in Richmond, and demonstrated a sure and comprehensive grasp of the possibilities of the instrument.

Toffoli—"Johnny" as he is known to his friends—played to a few fellows one evening in the apartments of Nelson G. Welburn, at the Alta Apartments, when Welburn was laid up with a broken ankle, and the bunch there assembled gave him the hand that he merited.

John Toffoli is a modest, clean-cut chap, and his personality will do a lot to secure for him the recognition which his talent merits.

The Square Dance Club held its weekly dance last evening in Moose hall. Because of the Firemen's Ball at East Shore Park, the attendance at the square dance was not as large as usual. Barnard acted as floor managers at the dance.

LEGION COUNTY COUNCIL MEETING AT MARTINEZ

The County Council of the American Legion of Contra Costa County will meet at Martinez today. A luncheon will be held at 12:30 and at 2 o'clock the Legion will assemble for business.

LIONS BOOKED FOR MARTINEZ TO START DEN ON TOMORROW

A lot of Lions are going to Martinez tomorrow and take part in the formal installation of a Den at the county seat.

Numerous business men of Martinez already have indicated their desire to become fill-fledged Lions, and the Richmond Lions who have had a lot of experience in starting new dens along the road to maturity are keen to go over and give a hand to the cubs at Martinez.

Since their organization here in March, 1921, the Richmond Lions have shown a lot of speed. They have a regular orchestra, which is one of the best in the bay cities.

Not very long ago they went down to Merced, "the gateway to the Yosemite," and installed a Den of 26 members. Within the past few months they also have taken part in the installation of dens at Madera and Manteca.

Hear 'em ror!

Eastern Stars of Richmond Were Guests of Oakland

The annual reception of the Eastbay Association of Associate Matrons of the Order of Eastern Star, was held last evening in the Glen View clubhouse in Lakemont, Oakland. Spanish War Vets And Auxiliary Are Happy Party Hosts

Musicians' hall was the scene of an enjoyable event last evening, when the United Spanish-American War Veterans and the Auxiliary held a very successful entertainment. The evening began with a program that was greatly appreciated by the banner crowd present. The program included vocal solos by Archie Kinsey, a piano solo by Olive Kinsey, and a dance and recitation by Marjorie Wood. Speeches were made by C. H. Kinsey, commander of Camp Dewey; and Mrs. Lucile Kister, president of the Auxiliary.

Following the program, a social dance was held. The evening was brought to a close with an elaborate banquet. The banquet room was very prettily decorated with yellow and white streamers and spring flowers.

MONDAY NIGHT CITY COUNCIL WILL DISCUSS ZONE SCHEME

Tomorrow is the big zoning night.

City Manager McVittie has extra chairs moved into the Council Chamber in anticipation of the rush.

The battle of oratory will be participated in by many. Great interest has been aroused in the proposed zoning ordinance. The people seem to have a desire to get all the facts.

The Richmond Industrial Commission has written another letter to the City Council this time stating that in view of knowledge gained and in face of all the facts it has definite objections to make to certain features, while being for zoning as far as it protects home sections; prevents encroachment of undesirable businesses or industries; encourages parks and playgrounds and helps promote health.

Requests are made for delay until more meetings can be held at which more and more of the citizens will learn all details and come forwad with suggestions.

In full view of scores of diners at fashionable Key Route Inn, Oakland, Ephriam Lincoln, 35, negro porter, was stabbed and seriously wounded yesterday morning by a Filipino servant, who has made his escape.

Lincoln was walking through the crowded dining room when Christana Genvra, bus boy, without warning drew a stiletto and plunged it twice into the negro's body. Guests at the hotel were panicstricken.

The negro, who lives at 1830 Gross street, was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where physicians said that he would recover. Both wounds penetrated the body below the left lung. Lincoln could give no reason for the attack.

SUNDAY MORNING CHATS

It will be noticed that Russia and Germany, in sneaking off to one side when the Genoa Conference of nations was going on and entering into a secret treaty of alliance among themselves, without taking any of the delegates of the other nations into their confidence, have acted with their characteristic dishonesty, thus again proving that they are dishonest, something everybody already knew. Why are they and many other European and Asiatic nations dishonest? Because the people of those nations, taken as a whole, are ignorant. Wherever the percentage of ignorance is greatest, there also the percentage of dishonesty is largest, which is the point we are striving at.

The remedy, then, for crime and dishonesty is education. The more ignorant one is the more of the brute there is in him. Education removes the brute instincts and replaces them with the instincts and principles of civilization. The wooden shoe elements of Europe are ignorant, and consequently dishonest. The Turk, Arab, Bulgarian, Rumanian and others like them are poverty-stricken, densely ignorant, and most of them would steal anything not spiked down. The same is true of the Mexican. The dog and cat and other animal will steal anything to eat, because it does not know any better. And so people who are ignorant do the same thing for the same reason. The answer is that we must all do everything we can during our lives to help along the great public school system, in this country and every other country. There is no other solution to the ills that the world suffers from. Ignorance is the chief cause of all crime, and it flees away before the public school like any other imp of darkness flees before the light of the sunshine. Richmond is a fair sample of this. We have the very best schools here that are obtainable, and the results are that ignorance is at a light percentage, and, consequently, crime is scarce. As the children are educated the race becomes better, more manly, more honest, more honorable, better in every way. Many of we older people are past praying for, but every year as boys become men and girls become women, the improvement is noticeable. And so it is all over the world.

Let us, then, so live that we give to our young the education which so many of us were denied in our early youth, and as we do this we will be doing a noble work before God and man, and doing our part toward making the world better, doing away with ignorance and dishonesty and fitting our boys and girls to be better people than we have been. Watch over and carefully care for your children, for in just a few years more they are the ones who will be running the country and its government, and they will run the country and the government along the very lines that we teach them now in their youth. If you have a child, you have a grave responsibility in this matter, and you owe it to that child, to the country, to civilization and to yourself to do your full duty toward the elimination of ignorance by education.

* * *

On our own little 2x4 ranch we have a good garden started now, with fruit trees blooming, roses and other flowers ditto and the young vegetables poking their heads up through the soil. So, as we can steal out an hour here and there we hope and rake and pull the weeds and fuss around, and thus gain health out in the fresh air and sunshine, while at the same time making something grow that is good to eat, good to look upon, and which would not have grown if we had not given it care and attention. The industrious, thoughtful man will weed, prune, water and destroy natural enemies, and thus encourage natural advantages. He may easily know that what is best to do, because millions of men before him have demonstrated the rules by which he will inevitably succeed or fail. And this life is just as simple a problem as a garden. Its rules are known beyond question. No one need go astray. Industry, fairness and common sense bring certain inevitable results, while idleness, carelessness and impoliteness bring certain inevitable results. There is no more doubt in one case than in the other.

* * *

Everyday we hear men say that the prohibitory law is an infringement upon their personal liberty, and that is something they allow no one to tamper with, either man or government. That is very big and brave talk, but it does not mean anything. Those persons who talk most about personal liberty want liberty to do something the rest of us have decided they have no right to do. We have no liberty except liberty to behave ourselys, and that is a right no one questions. No man has a right to make a hog of himself and wallow in the gutter; nor to make a fool of himself by burning up his brains until he runs amuck, or to abuse his family, or neglect them, or blow in money on booze which they need for support and comfort, and the quicker he gets such foolish notions out of his addled pate the better for himself and all parties concerned. Any time a so-called personal liberty interferes with the rights of others it ceases to be a personal liberty and must be abridged by society and the general public.

* * *

We hear considerable talk lately about a woman who is and has been holding meetings in various cities, of an evangelical nature, and is alleged to be making some faith cures which, to judge from hearsay, are little less than miraculous. We do not know anything about it, except from hearsay, but have no doubt she effects more or less cures. There is nothing very wonderful about that, up to a certain limit. The power of mind over matter is a wel known fact and has been amply demonstrated. And so if one person have an exceptionally strong mind and will power, he or she can dominate ailments of a minor nature quite readily, and we see no particular reason why such person should not be able to communicate, or transmute, some of such a power into other minds. It is probably largely electric and hypnotic. Electricity is a wonderful thing, and while we are accomplishing many great things because of it, and with it, it is still in its infancy, for nobody even knows what it is yet. Magnetic influence is also a wonderful thing and so is hypnotism. They are both associated with electricity. We now send message through the air without wires, having recently discovered radio waves that do it. This is very wonderful, and something which twenty years ago we would have shut anybody up in an asylum as crazy if they had claimed any such thing possible. If there are radio waves why not thought waves? One is no more wonderful than the other. If a message or song or band concert, or anything elese, can be sent to a person by radio waves, which is now being done everywhere, why can't thought be likewise sent along on thought waves? And if so why not will power, magnatism, hypnotic influence and other electrical forces? To our mind the mistake people make in such matters is to hold that they are divine. We fail to see where the divine part of it comes in, any further than the fact that everything is divine as a starter. It is mind, which while a divine spark must function by and through the material, and it is electrical, the great unknown force that we are just beginning to play with and harness. If you have a strong mentality and will power, and pray to God to help you get rid of ailments, if you also have faith you will get the aid, all right, and the transmission of thought waves of a highly beneficial nature. When science gets all these various air waves mapped out, we will all have to be more careful about what we think. This old quartz mill of a typewriter will then be junked as useless, and probably newspapers may throw up the sponge, also. You will then get everybody's thoughts direct from the Thinkograph over the thought waves in the air into your own brain, and any time you want to cure the flu or a case of rheumatism all you will have to do will be to put in the right plug and direct the waves to the aching parts. Druggist, physicians and editors can then quit work and go fishing.

* * *

As a few thoughts for Sunday consumption, the best we can offer this morning are the facts that if your affairs are going wrong the best remedy for that is for you to behave better. The better any man behaves himself the better he gets along. And there is nothing hard about behaving. It is much more simple than not to.

Mrs. Sanger to Girdle Globe

By Annie G. Porritt
Managing Editor Birth Control Review

In spite of agitation about difficulties in securing her passport, and in having it vised by the Jananese consul, Mrs. Margaret Sanger started on schedule time for her visit to the Orient—a visit which will mean a trip around the world before she again reaches New York. The world-wide discussion concerning the possibility of passport vise being denied her, shows the importance of her mission in the minds of both her opponents and her friends. That the foremost advocate of the voluntary restriction of population should be about to carry her message to the Orient—to the section of the world where human multiplication is most rapid and uncontrolled—foreshadows a new era in diplomacy and politics—as well as a new phase of civilization.

Mrs. Margaret Sanger

Mrs. Sanger's first stop is Honolulu where lectures have been arranged for her. From Honolulu she will proceed to Japan. Lectures here are being arranged by the group of Japanese progressives connected with the publication of the magazine "Kaizo." Japan has already learned to lessen her formerly enormous death rate by the adoption of modern sanitation, hygiene and medicine. The group that brought about these changes now desires to effect a civilized balance of population by the lowering of the birth rate. In conformity with this idea, this group asked Mrs. Sanger to point out the way to attain their ideal.

While in Japan, Mrs. Sanger will be the guest of Baroness Ishimoto daughter in law of the ex-Minister of War.

The first International Birth Control Congress, which has been arranged by the Malthusian League of Great Britain, is to be held in London July 7-11 Mrs. Sanger will attend this Conference, where she will head the delegation from the American Birth Control League. In this delegation will be Mrs Ann Kennedy, Executive Secretary of the American Birth Control League; Miss Clara Louise Rowe, and Mrs. Annie G. Porritt, Managing Editor of the Birth Control Review.

On Mrs. Sanger's return to this country it is planned to have a huge mass meeting in New York. In the meantime a mass meeting will be held in the Lexington Opera House, and will be a vindication of the right to hold such meetings—a right which has been fully acknowledged in the hearings before Commissioner Hirshfield concerning the action of the police in breaking up a meeting called for November 13.

The outcome of these hearings is practically the serving of notice on the police authorities all over the United States, that there is no justification in law for interference with the peaceable holding of meetings to discuss the policy of Birth Control or the amendment of the laws which now prevent the giving of information.

SYNOPSIS

FOREWORD.—Motoring through Arizona, a party of easterners, father and daughter and a male companion, stop to witness a cattle round up. The girl leaves the car and is attacked by a wild steer. A masterpiece of riding on the part of one of the cowboys saves her life.

CHAPTER I.—Clay Lindsay, range-rider on an Arizona ranch, announces his intention to visit the "big town," New York.

CHAPTER II.—On the train Lindsay becomes interested in a young woman, Kitty Mason, on her way to New York to become a motion-picture actress. She is marked as fair prey by a fellow traveler, Jerry Durand, gang politician and ex-prize fighter. Perceiving his intention, Lindsay provokes a quarrel and throws Durand from the train.

CHAPTER III.—On his first day in New York Lindsay is splashed with water by a janitor. That individual the range-rider punishes summarily and leaves tied to a fire hydrant. A young woman who sees the occurrence invites Clay into her house and hides him from the police.

CHAPTER IV.—Clay's "rescuer" introduces herself as Beatrice Whitford. Lindsay meets her father, Colin Whitford, and is invited to visit them again. He meets Kitty Mason by accident. She has been disappointed in her stage aspirations, and to support herself is selling cigarettes in a cabaret. Clay visits her there.

"Think yuh can come to New York and pull your small-town stuff on us? We'll show youse. If yuh wasn't a-feelin' green I'd give yuh a ride." The officer dropped his grumbling complaint to a whisper. "Whisht, bye. Take a straight tip from a man that knows. Beat it out of town. Get where the long arm of—of a friend of ours—can't reach yuh. He's a revengeful inemy if ever there was wan.'

"You mean that Durand—"

"I'm not namin' names," the officer interrupted doggedly. "I'm tellin' yuh somethin' for your good. Take it or leave it."

"Thanks, I'll leave it. This is a free country, and no man livin' can drive me away," answered Clay promptly. "Ouch, I'm sore. Give me a lift, sergeant."

They helped the cow puncher to his feet. He took a limping step or two. Every move was torture to his outraged flesh.

"Can you get me a taxi? That is, if you're sure you don't want me in yore calaboose," the range-rider said, leaning against the wall.

"We'll let yuh go this time."

"Much obliged—to Mr. Jerry Durand. Tell him for me that maybe I'll meet up with him again some time—and hand him my thanks personal for this first-class wallopin'." From the bruised, bleeding face there beamed again the smile indomitable, the grin still gay and winning. Physically he had been badly beaten, but in spirit he was still the man on horseback.

Presently he eased himself into a taxi as comfortably as he could. "Home, James," he said jauntily.

"Where?" asked the driver.

"The nearest hospital," explained Clay. "I'm goin' to let the doctors worry over me for a while. Much obliged to both of you gentlemen. I always did like the Irish. Friend Jerry is an exception."

The officers watched the cab disappear. The sergeant spoke the comment that was in the mind of them both.

"He's the best single-barreled sport that iver I met in this man's town. Not a whimper out of the guy and him mauled to a pulp. Game as they come. Did yonse see that spark o' the divvle in his eye, and him not fit to crawl into the cab? S'long, Tim. No report on this rough-house, mind yuh."

"Sure, Mike."

CHAPTER VI

Beatrice Up Stage.

If you vision Clay as a man of battles and violent death, you don't see him as he saw himself. He was a peaceful citizen from the law-abiding West. If was not until he had been flung into the whirlpool of New York that violent and melodramatic mishaps befell this innocent.

This was the version of himself that he conceived to be true and the one he tried to interpret to Bee Whitford when he emerged from the hospital after two days of seclusion and presented himself before her.

It was characteristic of Beatrice that when she looked at his battered face she asked no questions and made no exclamations. After the first startled glance one might have thought from her expression that he habitually wore one black eye, one swollen lip, one cauliflower ear, and a strip of gauze across his cheek.

The dark-lashed eyes lifted from him to take on a business-like directness. She rang for the man.

"Have the runabout brought round at once, Stevens. I'll drive myself," she gave orders.

With the light ease that looked silken-strong she swept the car into the park. Neither she nor Clay talked. Both of them knew that an explanation of his appearance was due her and in the meantime neither cared to fence with small talk. She drew up to look at some pond-lilies, and they talked about them for a moment, after which her direct eyes questioned him frankly.

He painted with a light brush the picture of his adventure into Bohemia. The details he filled in whimsically, in the picturesque phraseology of the West. Up stage on his canvas was the figure of the poet in velveteens. That Son of the Stars he did full justice. Jerry Durand and Kitty Mason were accessories sketched casually.

"I gather that Mr. Lindsay of Arizona was among those present," Beatrice said, smiling.

"I was givin' the dance," he agreed, and his gay eyes met hers.

Since she was a woman, one phase of his story needed expansion for Miss Whitford. She made her comment carelessly while she adjusted the mileage on the speedometer.

"Queer you happened to meet someone you knew down there. You said you knew the girl, didn't you?"

"We were on the same train out of Denver. I got acquainted with her."

Miss Whitford asked no more questions. But Clay could not quite let the matter stand so. He wanted her to justify him in her mind for what he had done. Before he knew it he had told her the story of Kitty Mason and Durand.

"I couldn't let him hypnotize that little girl from the country, could I?" he asked.

"I suppose not." Her whole face began to bubble with laughter in the way he liked so well. "But you'll be a busy knight errant if you undertake to right the wrongs of every girl you meet in New York. Don't you think it possible that you rescued her out of a job?"

"But You'll Be a Busy Knight Errant If You Undertake to Right the Wrongs of Every Girl You Meet in New York."

The young man nodded his head ruefully. "That's exactly what I did. After all her trouble gettin' one I've thrown her out again. I'm a sure-enough fathead."

"You've been down to find out?" she asked with a sidelong tilt of her quick eyes.

"Yes. I went down this mawnin' with Tim Muldoon. He's a policeman I met down there. Miss Kitty hasn't been seen since that night. We went out to the Pirate's Den, the Purple Pup, Grace Godwin's Garret, and all the places where she used to sell cigarettes. None of them have seen anything of her."

"So that really your championship hasn't been so great a help to her after all, has it?"

"No."

"And I suppose it ruined the business of the man that owns the Sea Siren."

"I don't reckon so. I've settled for the furniture. And Muldoon says when it gets goin' again the Sea Siren will do a big business on account of the fracas. It's Kitty I'm worried about."

"I wouldn't worry about her if I were you. She'll land on her feet," the girl said lightly.

Her voice had not lost its sweet cadences, but Clay sensed in it something that was almost a touch of cool contempt. He felt vaguely that he must have blundered in describing Kitty. Evidently Miss Whitford did not see her quite as she was.

The young woman pressed the starter button. "We must be going home. I have an engagement to go riding with Mr. Bromfield."

The man beside the girl kept his smile working and concealed the little stab of jealousy that dirked him. Colin Whitford had confided to Lindsay that his daughter was practically engaged to Clarendon Bromfield and that he did not like the man. The range-rider did not like him either, but he tried loyally to kill his distrust of the clubman. If Beatrice loved him there must be good in the fellow. Clay meant to be a good loser anyhow.

There had been moments when the range-rider's heart had quickened with a wild, insurgent hope. One of these had been on a morning when they were riding in the park, knee to knee, in the dawn of a new clean world. It had

FOR THE MOTOR

CHICAGO—A brilliant summer is ordained. Fashion has decreed that golf links, motor lanes, parks, beaches, boulevards and city streets shall be gladdened as never before.

Women's frocks are to be a riot of bright, vivid tones. Plain weaves and solid colors will predominate for sport clothes, with a popularity undreamed of six months ago. They found everywhere.

shattering precedent. Gorgeous toned frocks, middies, smocks and one-piece slip-ons, hitherto strictly sport apparel, will be adapted for more general wear.

Unique combinations will prevail. A charming frock of one solid color, with its rippling side panels, may be piped in a sharply contrasting tone. This will be the season's necessary new touch—the recognizable stamp of 1922.

"What caused the unusual demand?" repeated an official of Marshall Field & Company, large producers. "That is hard to answer. It may have had its incentive at the big winter resorts. It seems to have been spontaneous. Merchants are buying sports material as never before. Linno cloth, popular for this wear, in the past has been produced only in white. Demand this year has resulted in the production of colored Linno Cloth in fourteen tones. Those in greatest demand are flame, gold, Indian, orange, leather and other unusual sport shades. Despite the carnival of color there is a tendency toward graceful drapery, with plaits, folds and panels. Many girls of an artistic turn will fashion their own sport clothes this year, and who knows what new styles will grow out of the fad?"

Sombreness is dead—a thing of the dim past. It is to be a brilliant summer.

Corinne Griffith Is Brilliant Star at the Macdonald

"Charles Maigne, whose name as a director is associated with some of the biggest and most successful productions of the past couple of years, directed Corinne Griffith in "Received Payment," which will be shown at the Macdonad Theater today.

Mr. Magine has directed Lionel Barrymore in "The Copperhead," Mary Miles Minter," Monte Blue, Tom Meighan and other well known stars of other companies, and put out two special Charles Maigne Paramount productions, "The Firing Line" and "The Fighting Chance" both adaptations from Robert W. Chamber's novels. He directed Alice Brady in "Red-head."

Corinne Griffith has an unusual opportunity for dramatic work and elaborate costuming in this new play, and has a notable cast, including Kenneth Harlan, who himself has been starred; Charles Hammond, formerly leading man for Maude Adams; David Torrance, William David and other players of the stage and screen with large individual followings.

The story is one of the theatrical type in which the star becomes a famous cabaret artist in a roof garden production. It has intense dramatic moments which culminate in a big scene in one of the boxes of the roof garden.

"FLU" LEAVES PATIENT WEAK AND NERVELESS

Regains Strength After Almost Giving Up Hopes of Recovery

Spanish Influenza or "Flu" as this dread disease is now generally called, almost invariably leaves the sufferer weak, nervous, discouraged and depressed. As a matter of fact, some people never fully recover from the effects of "Flu" simply because they do not know there are remedies that will bring back their health and strength.

In a letter, Mrs. Jonas Myers, R. F. D. No. 1, Kelly's Station, Pa., tells how she counteracted the effects of a severe attack of "Flu" after trying various remedies. She says:

"I never took any medicine that did me so much good as Dr. A. W. Chase's Tonic Pills. I had the 'Flu' and after I got over it, was so weak and nervous, I could hardly get around. I tried different medicines but was no better when I quit using them than before I started. A friend sent me one of your booklets and I read of Dr. A. W. Chase's medicines. I may say that I had given up all hope of ever getting better, but three boxes of Dr. A. W. Chase's Tonic Pills made me feel like a new person. I feel now as if life was worth living once more, and am recommending Dr. A. W. Chase's medicines to everyone I know."

You can buy Dr. A. W. Chase's remedies at all drug stores. To be sure of getting the genuine, see that the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on each box. This trade mark is your protection against imitations. —Advertisement.

FARMERS TO DIVIDE $10,000 AT BIG INTERNATIONAL SHOW

GOLDEN EARS AND SILVER CUPS — GEORGE S. BRIDGE

CHICAGO.—Ten thousand dollars in cash prizes again will be awarded farmers this year for the best grain and forage crops exhibited at the International Grain and Hay Show. For the fourth consecutive year the Chicago Board of Trade has contributed the $10,000 premium list in the interest of better crops. Last year 3,312 samples of grain and forage crops were exhibited by American and Canadian farmers at the show, which is held in connection with the International Livestock Exposition.

"The Chicago Board of Trade," said President Robert McDougal in announcing renewal of the $10,000 prize list at a conference of agricultural experts, "has always been [illegible] interested in production. "Most gratifying results have been obtained by producers who have attended the big annual event," he said. "Interest is widespread, and indications are that there will be 1,000 more exhibits this year than last."

Other speakers included Prof. G. I. Christie, Purdue University, Superintendent; Prof. E. D. Holden, University of Wisconsin; Prof. J. L. Robinson, Ames; Prof. A. D. Growth of Dollar Day in Oakland in Seven Years

That Oakland shoppers appreciate and look forward to Oakland's Annual Spring and Fall Dollar Days is evidenced by the almost phenomenal growth in the volume of sales of many of the stores. A notable instance is that of Whitthorne & Swan (Washington street and Eighteenth, Oakland. Dollar Day was originated selves. Dollar Day was originated in 1916 and the stores sales for that day while not to be compared in volume with the latter figures, were the largest one day's sales of Whitthorne & Swan up to that date.

As Dollar Day Grows

1916 Whitthorne & Swan Sales, $3,569.04.

1917 Whitthorne & Swan Sales, $8,188.59.

1918 Whitthorne & Swan Sales, $22,667.59.

1919 Whitthorne & Swan Sales, $41,599.97.

1920 Whitthorne & Swan Sales, $93,170.34.

1921 Fall Dollar Day Sales, $76,648.43.

A notable feature in connection with this wonderful showing is that it has demonstrated in a very substantial manner the great benefits to be derived from advertising, which this progressive firm strongly believes in. Also the fact that honest dealing and truth in the use of printers' ink as well as backing it up with value pays. Greater values than ever are offered for this Spring's day next Wednesday, April 26th.

Readers of Richmond Demand "Brass" at Public Library

The "special request" file at the library shows that the two most popular books with Richmond readers are the novels "If Winter Comes," by Hutchinson, and "Brass," by Chas. Norris.

The Literary Review of the New York Evening Post recently sugested the following recent novels, as "interesting in plot, clean, and in the main good-humored, the sort of readable book so many are loking for. "O Susannah," by Meade Minnegarde, a rollicking story of the sea. "Andivius Hedulio,' by E. L. White, which will put any reader into the days of Commodus and bring his out with the conviction that he has lived thru an exciting personal experience. Hutchinson's "Once aboard the lugger,', because this charming work did not have a fair chance until Winter came. "The Young Enchanted," by Hugh Walpole for its sympathetic study of youth, Arnold Bennett's "Mr. Proback' 'to reassure you that a man can inherit a hundred thousand pounds and have a wonderful time with it, "Joanna Godden," by Sheila Kaye-Smith, because it is the finest novel by the first woman novelist of England, though Joanna will not be popular with women in general, who may not see that instead of being, as they think, a masculine woman, she is all too feminine. Katherine Fullerton Gerould's "Lost Valley" for an interesting plot; Hemon's "Maria Chapdelaine," because it is too beautiful to leave out. "Humbug," by E. M. Delafield, for the story of an "education" by one who knows girls and how foolishly they can be brought up. "The Brassbounder," by David Boone for a fine tale of the sea."

All of these books are in the Richmond library and a postal card reserve may be filed for them if you do not find them on the shelves.

For Her Who Would A-Jaunting Go

By Carolyn T. Radnor-Lewis

When Spring is in the air and a responsive tingle thrills you to your very being, then it is that the little microbe, Up-and-Doing, gets busy and stirs the dormancy of winter into action. Then a trip—possibly only a motor ride into the country or a visit to the big city—becomes a necessity. One just naturally longs to attire herself in gayest raiment and be off to warm sunshine, and shooting buds.

Then in the Spring every garment that makes for the comfort of the traveler looms large on the fashion horizon, be it only the Pullman robe. You can easily guess that it received its name because truly practical on the sleeper when one would woo Morpheus in comfort, but so completely garbed that any call to appear in public could be instantly answered.

It's the simplest kind of a negligee to make—requiring about five yards—and you can get the pattern at the shop where you purchase your pussy willow free. There's an elastic at the waist to add to its practicality and you may make it to slip over the head or fasten in surplice fashion.

The fringe is just a matter of fancy, but a narrow frilling of the silk would be quite as effective or even a piping in a contrasting color. You can now procure bias bindings in all the clever little checks and bright colored organdies that take the most circuitous turns with the greatest ease. Just one sewing and the rawest edge is taken off in a highly successful manner. To the skilled with the needle this ingenious idea will appeal at once. Even the embryo sewer will be loud in its praise after one struggle with the old method.

When it comes to a choice of color you will find thirty shades of pussy willow fast to the tub and fast to sunlight. You may elect black; or the new spring color, the radiant dent de lion, which owes its name to the tawny-headed blossom; or again the bright-eye blue that the former Princess Mary selected for her bridesmaids' frocks and for the favorite costumes in her trousseau.

It will bring you lots of comfort in your home, but its true purpose is to be a Pullman robe and it may be developed in any of the thirty shades of fast to the tub and fast to sun-light pussy willow.

It's to be [illegible] for all manner of under-dress, out o' door costumes and the [illegible] little [illegible] that one delights to don in the spring when [illegible], frocks that now will be even more endeared to [illegible] as they make so many successful trips to the tub.

First Baptist Church

Bible school at 9:45 a. m. Wilford Cook, superintendent. Classes for all ages. Live Bible classes for men and women.

11 a. m., morning worship. Rev. C. E. Tingley, D. D. of Berkeley, superintendent of the Bay Cities Baptist Union, will preach. Don't fail to hear him.

6 p. m., Junior Society meets.

6:45 p. m. the Baptist Young People's Union will hold their regular service.

7:45 p. m., Evangelistic meeting, preceded by a spirited song service. The pastor will preach. Everybody cordially invited to attend the services of this church. You will be sure of a hearty welcome. Come.

There will be Sunday school at the Point Baptist church at 10 a. m. Dr. C. E. Tingley, D. D., will be present and talk to the Sunday school.

There will also be a preaching service at 11 a. m. Rev. Charles R. G. Poole will preach and all the residents of the Point are cordially invited to attend the service.

First Christian Church

11 a. m., "Three Would-Be Disciples and the Difficulties That Stood in Their Way."

Last Sunday was a great decision day in this church. Thirty-six persons united with the congregation. Twenty were baptized on Wednesday evening.

It is expected that others will present themselves for membership at the services this morning and evening, and an effort is being made to duplicate if possible last Sunday's services.

Baptismal services will take place at the close of the morning preaching. All unidentified members of the Chrstian church in the city are urged to place their membership with the congregation here Sunday.

7:30 p. m., "A Notebook Survey of New Testament Christianity." This is an illustrated summary of Christianity as it was in the beginning and as it is to be when the mists of the centuries have lifted and when men and women shall come to see things as they are. A large chart will be employed in the presentation of this student's summary. All Bible students urged to examine and criticise. Any sugestions gratefully appreciated. Special selections by chorus choir and solos at both services. Warren Griffin will preside at the organ at both services Sunday.

It isn't merely thinking that makes things so; acting is equally important. So come along to church.

KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLE RELIEVED

I had Kidney and Bladder Trouble for years. I had to get up at night to urinate, and each time pained me awfully. I treated with various doctors and medicine and was in a very discouraging condition. A friend of mine, who was benefited for his weakness by taking the Herbs prepared by the Kong Wah Herb Specialists, urged me to try them. After taking them for two months, I was entirely well.

Stomach As Heavy As Lead

March 16, 1922.
I suffered from dysentery and difficult breathing, my bowels moving constantly with bloody discharges. I also had murning indigestion and my stomach felt as though there was a piece of lead in it. Failing to get relief elsewhere, I took the herbs of the FONG WAN HERB CO. for two weeks. My former complaints have left me entirely and I am now enyojing good health.

Oakland, Feb. 3, 1922.
At intervals I suffered severe pleurisy pains which began in the right side of my chest and ran around under my arm into my shoulder blade. It was both painful and difficult to raise my arm. I had taken various sorts of treatment for the trouble, but had found no relief.
Now, after seven weeks of the FONG WAN HERBS, the pain in my chest is entirely gone and I feel quite well. I bought the herbs in packages and cooked them at home.

SELLING THE DODGE BROS. CAR

Selling Dodge Brothers cars in this territory is likened to giving good American cigarettes to Yankee soldiers in Europe in 1917 and 1918.

And if you went overseas and smoked any of those strange and mysteriously made "Woodbine Fags" that the Limeys used, or tried inhaling one of those queer little bundles that the Poilus peddled among their "kamrades," then you know what simple thing it is to dispose of Dodge Brothers cars.

Dodge Machines Overseas

J. P. Strom, who is sole agent in Richmond for the competent Dodge, says that he really and truly believes that Clarence Pruitt was influenced to enlist in the American Expeditionary forces because he held hope that he might be privileged to drive a Dodge Brothers' car "over there."

Be that as it may: Pruitt did enlist and did go overseas, and did drive Dodge trucks from St. Aignon to Marseilles.

Many a major general never would have got to his destination in the Field of Flanders had not Clarence Pruitt or other capable man been there to guide the destiny of a good and true Dodge Brothers' car.

Dodge Cars and Duck Boards

Returning soldiers, after it was "all over, over there," saw what the old Dodge machine could do in that muck and mud at Brest.

Buck private and brevet alike, delighted to take off their hats to the Dodge Brothers' car.

In Old "Lou" and Oklahoma

W. L. Nelson, a member of the sales staff for J. P. Strom, has seen the machine perform in the swamp lands of Louisiana and on the Oklahoma prairies. He adds the weight of sincere testimony to the merits of the Dodge.

Native Son Knows 'Em

"Dick" Maxwell," native son," on the selling staff at "the sign of the clock," has so much faith in the Dodge that he will sell them to his own kin.

The mechanical phases of the faithful road boat are given expert attention by Joe Souza, and the mascot, Oscar, stands by to bring the good fortune which simple faith insures.

Boston Bull Barks Approval

Jiggs, pedigreed Boston bull barks his delight when a Dodge Brothers' car rolls out to a new customer, and his barks are heard with frequency, when consideration is had of the fact that J. P. Strom is putting out a carload a week.

ZONING SCHEME TO ENGAGE COUNCIL

Following is the letter sent by the Industrial Commission:

"The Honorable City Council.
Richmond, April 22,, 1922.

Richmond:

Gentlement and Lady Member:—

Since receiving the additional information developed at the meeting of April 13 and upon further study of the proposed zoning ordinance we are better able to specify certain features of this proposed ordinance that we believe would be absolutely detrimental to the proper development of our city.

Therefore, in the interests of Richmond's future, we ask that the proposed ordinance be not adopted without certain changes aimed to prevent evil results.

All anyone desires is good results: Probably the greatest objective in zoning or any restrictive laws along that line is to protect the home sections, and this we cannot urge too strongly.

Also, our city is one largely populated by workers and they must be protected and given the finest advantages. To create any business district "trust" or monopoly that might open the way for profiteering in rents, thus forcing merchants to raise prices to the consumer or to shut out certain suitable industrial lands from industry and thus discourage location of factories that would provide profitable employment for our workers and their families would certainly work injury.

We ask as the most important reservations or changes, if there is really any intention of adopting this ordinance, at the present time, that the natural future commercial arteries, San Pablo, Twenty-Third Cutting Boulevard, Macdonald avenue from Twenty-Third street to San Pablo avenue, and Tenth street, north and south of Macdonald avenue, except where it would interfere with any school, be designated as business throughfares; that at least twenty-five acres of the Nicholl property along the Santa Fe Oakland branch from Twenty-Third street easterly be left in a position to be used industrially; that the site of from three to five acres on the right of way of the Southern Pacific a short distance south of where it is crossed by the Santa Fe in the northern part of the city be left in the industrial classification; that certain sites suitable for light industry that are now in zones set down entirely as residence—these sites to be determined by experts on what is best for Richmond—be left open for light industry that will be a benefit and not harmful; that there be very little and very cautious restritions as to localities where apartment houses may be erected; that the harbor swamp land now designated as a site for a public park be returned to heavy industry.

We would suggest that perhaps the best plan of all is to let the citizens in the several districts of Richmond name committees to determine, after careful investigation, what those districts desire in the way of zoning and what is most conductive to proper development.

We make the request that no final action on this proposed ordinance be taken until opportunity has been had to hold a mass meeting of citizens, preferably at the Lincoln auditorium. It has been stated that one meeting was called and that few attended. The reason was probably that the matter had not gone far enough for general interest to be aroused and also probably there was not sufficient publicity given the meeting. The meeting set for Wednesday night, April 12, was given no unusual publicity and then was set forward a night, without anw chance for much publicity of this fact. A big meeting might be possible at this stage.

A month or two delay will not seriously injure anyone, not even any who may hope to advance rents if this ordinance is adopted (we note in one of our local papers of April 10 a story announcing a raise of 100 per cent. in rents on Macdonald avenue because of increased cost of repairs) and it will give time for more study on the part of our people and bringing forward of more points that may be beneficial, all of which we feel this Council would welcome.

Our further request, however, is that any ordinance that may be passed be delayed for a year or two years. In that time developments will so shape themselves as to make possible a far wiser zoning ordinance than any that would be evolved today, and no harm could result. Great cities have thrived and survived to this day without zoning ordinances and are now adopting only with much care certain limited zoning features.

Land adjacent to deep water is a most essential factor in development of our city. It provides rail and water sites for shipping, warehousing, manufacturing. Railroads develop facilities there. We have too little of such land as it is. Taking a big piece of this right at the head of our new harbor for park purposes wil result in the making of an indifferent park surrounded by smoke and noise, and will shut Richmond out of some major development. If a level water front park site is needed land further toward the easterly end of the harbor survey could be selected.

There are numerous light industries, such as knitting mills, glove factories, garment factories and so forth that will come along and for these there are sites in various sections set down as purely residence territory that could be utilized with advantage to our city and our workers and with no disadvantage to anyone. We have in Richmond some competent young engineers—al ex-service men, too, we understand—such for example as Ross Calfee and Edward A. Hoffmann—men thoroughly capable of making a city plan and having intimate knowledge of our city. We ask that one or more of these be employed to act with some well posted committee in connection with this zoning proposition. A few hundred dollars above the $3600 allotted for the zoning plan submitted, will not be badly spent if it saves us from errors.

Just where heavy industry ends and light industry begins we do not know. An automobile assembling plant or a shoe factory might be in the general vicinity of a very good residence district and be no detriment. In fact it would be a convenience for such workers as wished to have homes handy to the plants. Smoky or noisy industry will seek the sites where it belongs. Acid factories and others that are nuisances always seek isolation and are wary about locating in any district where they may be warred upon.

One of our great problems here mond payroll money spent in Oakland mond payroll money spent i Oakland and other cities for supplies. If rents should be boosted by forming business district monopolies and merchants are forced to raise prices and get more profit, how much more buying will there be outside.

To hamper logical business streets from developing as such is unfair to those who have improved them and invested along them with a thought of natural business development. The statement made that a business building may be put upon one of these streets by special permission brings little satisfaction. If such permits are to be granted later, why not designate these as business thoroughfares now.

There is so much good building territory in Richmond that the designation of the logical commercial arteries as residence streets is useless. They are not the most suitable for residence, so such designation impedes their development in any way. Left to attain their destiny as commercial thoroughfares those attracted by future business values will invest for homes at the start on these avenues and build in real residence sections when crowded out by business.

We are taking the stand we do because we expect Richmond to grow and become a large city. If we are not right in the belief that it can be made a large city, there is no use of any zoning ordinance anyway. If we all work together and work for Richmond, however, there need be no fear that our city will not grow.

All will concede that undue haste is not necessary in adopting a zoning ordinance and that Richmond can survive for a time yet without one. We would therefore ask in conclusion that a mass meeting to discuss this matter be called for some date within a month at the Lincoln auditorium and that the Council and all civic bodies join in an effort to have a big attendance.

Very Truly,
RICHMOND INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION."

Essex and Hudson Cars Attract Many

A. L. Pearson, the proprietor, of the Fourth street garage has been as busy as a bee this week, the great attraction being the Essex and Hudson cars.

During the past six days three Essex cars were sold, and four used cars, and there are many fore prospects. Those who have inspected the Essex coach say it is the greatest value in the automobile world.

Among the deliveries made this week was an Essex touring car to A. Lacrouts of 120 Standard avenue; an Essex coach to S. G. Pearson of 9 Nicholl avenue; and an Essex Touring car to W. A. Jahnke of 204 Buena Vista avenue.

GET YOUR MAIL FROM NOW ON AT NEW HOME 1 BLOCK DOWN

Were you looking for a notice from the income tax collector last night?

What a relief when you went to the old post office in Sixth street and learned that it was moving day with Uncle Sam.

Were you expecting a letter from the girl of your dreams—the regular Saturday night letter which might serve to stem you over on a long Sunday till the blue Monday?

What anguish was yours when the attendants told you that "maybe you have got a key to a lock box!" you have got a key to a lock box; Not at this post office."

Moving to New Home

You see, the new building which is to be the home of the Richmond post office for maybe many years had been pronounced ready for occupancy, and so Postmaster Long took advantage of the quiet period from 6 o'clock Saturday evening to opening time Monday to transfer duns, love letters, bank statements, weather reports, threats, black-mail missives and the "letter that came at last" into the new home.

"We are sorry, sir," said one of the courteous attendants to a Record-Herald" representative who hustled in after dinner last night, eager for the Martinez papers and the picturesque and lurid weekly by Harry Hammond at Byron Hot Springs. "We are very sorry, sir, but you won't get any mail at THIS post office until sometime tomorrow, or maybe Monday."

"But," insisted the newspaper man, "I have a key to a certain box, and I must have the mail."

The attendant bestowed a look upon the newspaper man as if he would say: "Poor nut. God rest his soul—if he has one," and went on with the moving.

Built to Suit Uncle Sam

The building has a frontage of 50 feet, a depth of 112½ feet, and a floor space of 5280 feet against 2300 feet in the old building.

More Room Provided

It fronts on Nevin, and has a commodious lobby, which extends almost the entire length of the building. The lobby is tiled.

Moneys and valuables will be cared for in a stable vault.

Postmaster Long and his force of 22 people are delighted to move into their new quarters.

W. S. Pierce, an attorney of this city, is the owner of the building, and from him the government has secured a long-time lease.

DR. J. B. SPALDING WOULD AID THE EX-SERVICE MEN

Dr. J. B. Spalding, medical examiner, recently named by the United States government to handle the needs of ex-service men in the matter of remedying their physical disabilities, incurred in the service, hopes to receive the co-operation of the American Legion and of the Veterans of Foreign Wars throughout the county.

Busch's Inn, formerly operated as the Coursing Park Club, had its formal opening last night under the management of Miss Maude Rockwell and Mrs. J. H. Busch.

Friends and patrons of the popular inn flocked out in large numbers from eight o'clock in the evening up until a late hour.

The mansion had been converted into a charming scene and hospitality rioted.

The orchestra proved a delightfully capable organization and the dancers enjoyed the gay romp of fast fox trots and dreamy measure of stately waltz to their hearts' content.

"Thank You"

This acknowledgment of a courtesy or service is somehow the satisfactory end of a transaction. Both parties are pleased and the relations of the moment, however unimportant, are more happily closed.

There is no occasion when an effort made for the comfort or convenience of others is not worth a "thank you."

In the daily routine of telephone operations, where the saving of time is the great consideration, the opportunity of expressing an appreciation of service rendered seldom arises.

But remember that the telephone operator is human. Courtesy to her means more cheerfulness in her work. It will be reflected in your own self-satisfaction.
